

Conditions

The UvA Job board offers employers a place to display internships for university students and graduate jobs free of charge. Only students and graduates of the UvA have access to the database.

High-quality range

For the UvA, it is important to offer a high-quality and diverse range of internships and graduate vacancies to our students and recently graduates. The level of the position (university education) and the professionalism of your organisation are self-evident criteria for us. Should we see no connection, the UvA reserves the right not to place your vacancy.

Recruitment agencies and other intermediaries

Intermediaries recruiting for other companies via will be declined, unless they recruit for vacancies within their organisation.

IT internships

Internships exclusively for informatics will not be published via UvA Job board. If you want to post your vacancy here, you have to change it into a study related part-time job. In case you want to find more information about the criteria for IT internships, you can fill out the form on this webpage (in Dutch).

Conditions of use

1. Approval: we strive for a reply period of maximum 2 working days for the approval of your organisation account.
2. Publication: we strive for a reply period of maximum 3 working days for the publication of a vacancy and the linking to target groups.
3. We reserve the right to make changes and corrections to this website and/or these conditions of use, without prior approval.
4. If you provide us with personal data on the website, such as your name and email address, our privacy statement (in Dutch) will apply.

Criteria for internships

The level of education of an internships preferably need to be research-oriented (WO), but at least higher education with an applied emphasis (HBO).

An intern has no responsibility for production and does have workplace supervision, preferably by someone with the same academic background.
